THE EAGLE NEVER INSINUATES.

It was a great disappointment to the Galveston-Dallas News and the senior editor of The Bryan Eagle when National Committeeman R. M. Johnston proved to their insistent satisfaction that he really did not call upon Governor Harmon during his recent visit North. Notwithstanding Mr. Johnston's denial in the first instance, the two Newses kept insisting that he did until he had finally to go to the matter in a rather legal way and attach documentary evidence to his second denial. In the meantime the editors of the News and The Eagle indulged numerous little insinuations, for which they now have time to repent and feel like the boy the calf ran over.—Navasota Examiner.

Candid and unprejudiced readers of The Eagle know that nothing has appeared in this paper to justify even a suspicion that we were disappointed when Governor Harmon sustained Colonel Johnston's assertion in the issue of veracity between that gentleman and several other reputable parties, one of them a democratic member of congress from Ohio. On the contrary, The Eagle was gratified, and said so, upon Colonel Johnston's complete vin-dication. But The Eagle has learned by experience not to expect favor, or even justice from the Examiner.

DRIVING DEMOCRATS OUT OF THE PARTY.

Maj. Mose C. Harris of the Texas Republic says The Bryan Eagle and State Topics are driving democrats out of the party, the former as a free-trader and the latter as an anti-prohi-bitionist, and he is ready to welcome those "driven out" to the republican fold. Speaking for itself, State Topics knows of no democrat it has driven out of the party, nor does it conceive how any democrat could quit the party because he differed with some fellow-democrat in the interpretation of some of the many issues that are before the people today. Texas democrats quarrel among themselves, but when it comes to meeting the "common enemy," the republicans, they generally present a pretty solid front.—State Topics.

In the democratic party there are some so-called democrats who are all the time giving aid and comfort to the enemy. The Eagle insists that they should quit masquerading and put on the uniform of the party they serve.
As Patrick Henry said: "If this be treason, make the most of it."

Capt. A. J. Searcy has received a letter from his son, Rev. T. A. Searcy of Lake City, Ia., in which it is stated that no freight trains have been able to reach that place for two weeks, on account of the snow blockade, and as a consequence there is a great dearth of many of the necessities, including provisions, fully half of the families being out of sugar and unable to buy or borrow. He added that he is paying now a dollar a day for fuel, using it as sparingly as possible, "with a coal famine staring him in the face." Those who complain of conditions in Texas should find consolation in the knowledge that they might be worse.

At the good roads meeting Thursday it was developed that Bryan business men are a unit in favor of using the proceeds of the proposed bond issue so as to make it easy for all the people of the county, especially those in the more distant parts of the county, to get to market with their products.
They make no hypocritical pretense of unselfishness in their efforts, but it is an enlightened selfishness, beneficial not only to them but also to the country people—and the latter will get the largest share of the benefit.

The banks of Bryan are now paying taxes, as follows: First National, $1-024.23; City National, $895.53; State Bank & Trust Company, $368.52. The presidents of all these banks are heartily in favor of the proposed bond issue for building and maintaining good roads.

Farm and Ranch puts a whole volume of truth in these few words: "It is true that the possibilities of an acre are limited more by the intelligence of the farmer than by the capacities of the soil."

Convict Banker Morse's money kept talking until it got a hearing. The poor devil who gets pinched has to take his medicine even to the bitter dregs because he has no money to talk for him.

The few days of pleasant weather caused many to felicitate themselves prematurely, joyfully exclaiming that "the backbone of the winter was broken," when it wasn't even strained.

The Alta Herald of January 18 came to our exchange table in a green cover. Don't you know St. Patrick's Day comes on the seventeenth of March?

Remember, if the bond issue carries, your taxes will be increased only 50 cents on the $1000.

GOOD ROADS MEETING AT KURTEN LAST NIGHT

Messrs. Ed Hall, E. W. Crenshaw, Eugene Edge, J. B. Priddy, J. T. Lawler and Emmett Cole went out to the good roads meeting last night at Kur-ten, where a large number of the citizens of that community met to discuss the question of the proposed bond issue. Mr. John Hicks was made chairman of the meeting. Mr. Ed Hall, Mr.
Lawler, Mr. Murry and others spoke upon the question. A committee on resolutions was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Hamp Buchanan, John Hearne and Miner Easters. During their absence the discussion was carried on by the gentlemen of the community. It developed that the crowd was about evenly divided upon the question. However, a number expressed their willingness to study the matter more closely.

The committee on resolutions reported resolutions to the effect that this is a question for each voter to study carefully and vote as he may see for the best interests of the community at large. These resolutions were unanimously adopted.

It is proposed to hold another meeting at Kurten before the close of the campaign.

SCANDAL IN POUGHKEEPSIE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Dr.
Albert Reed of Highland, who some time ago brought suit for divorce against his wife, Eloise, naming John B. Moule, a seventy-year-old milkman, as co-respondent, is now made the defendant in a counter-suit, and some sensational developments are expected from the hearing set for today.

Mrs. Reed says she will produce witnesses who will testify to undue intimacy between Dr. Reed and Miss Lillian Ean of Kingston. Mrs. Reed's sister, Miss Jennie M. Smith of Kingston, alleges that a few months ago she and Mrs. Reed found in the doctor's room property belonging to Miss Ean, and also says that one night she heard Dr. Reed and Miss Ean talking in the doctor's room for nearly two hours.

BRYAN CHURCHESThe following calendar for revival services has been planned by the following Bryan churches:First Methodist church, begins March 3.First Christian church, begins March 17.First Baptist church, begins March 27.This will occasion a slight overlapping of services, contrary to the usual custom of the churches. The second meeting was planned last summer and the date made public in the early fall.It was the desire of the pastors to have no conflict in the dates of the meetings, but when the first and third meetings were planned the conflict arose from a combination of circumstances known to the pastors concerned and over which they had no control.The fact of the conflict was and is regretted, but after consultation it was agreed to proceed according to the above schedule.We beg all our people to take note of these dates and to unite together in earnest prayer for the gracious blessing of our Heavenly Father upon the labors of our churches.GLENN FLINN,
